TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- 1.Keep your purchased Dongle and Software key safe. If you lost or damage the dongle, will not be returned. If the dongle repaired, the repair will be given.
- 2.We give free demo for seven days. We sell you only after satisfaction in your sense. So our company will not allow the return of the software or the refund of the money after the sale
- 3.Software related suspicions and the online service will be offered for free for only three months from the time you purchased the software. And it's all in office hours only. Your complaint will be corrected within the next 48 hours after you have registered a complaint about software.

If there are inevitable reasons for our employees or they are in online with a different customer at the time you call, They will call you back and fix your complaints. The complaint can not be fixed as soon as you have been invited in all the time. Sometimes the time delay is inevitable.

4. Training on software will be taught once to only one person on our behalf. Then we won't teach them again if you sell the software to someone else or if you hired someone else. Instead you have to study by watch our video on our website or Youtube.

You should also take responsibility for the channel problems by your employee's mistakes, your computer or control room problems. Don't blame the software without exploring it completely.

5. We'll take legal action against you, if you miss use or try to crack our software.

6. You only buy a software that is wholehearted after seven days of free demo. So if you spread defamation in social media after the sale, we'll take legal action. If any of your employees make this mistake, your administration is responsible for it.

7. The personal preference of the administration is giving demo or not to someone. The company only determines the price of the software. So the company has full control over the price, offers and updates. No one else can interfere with this.
